DR. GREELEY'S CAMPAIGN. WORDS OF WISDOM TO THE ARTLESS

CHILDREN OF THE FOREST. Phe Opinion of Irreverent Red Men who Haven't Read the Latest Works on Agriculture-The Great Farmer's Opinion on the Question of Women Voting.

Orrespondence of The Sur.
GREEN BAY, Wis., Sept. 9.—The audience which greeted Mr. Greeley in Oshkosh last evening was a very fine one, numbering at least 1,500 per-sons. They frequently greeted the distinguished Speaker with rapturous applause. Clad in the well-known while overcoat and a well-worn suit of black broadcioth, Mr. Greeley appeared on the stage carrying under his arm the manuscript copy of his lecbure, carefully wrapped in a red bandsana handkershief. The woman question is one on which Mr. Greeley is peculiarly hoppy, and last night he was In his pleasantest mood. He denounced the women mitators in the strongest terms, and scattered to the four winds of heaven their associon that woman in this country is made the slave of man. The squaws, said he, who carry to their lodge the deer that their husbands shoot, are simply following out God's purpose. If He didn't intend that they should do so, the necessity for it would be removed. Their husbands' hearts would be moved to carry in the near themselves. Mr. Greeley added that it was hard to tell what the women really wanted, or what they deemed their rights. In New York some of them demanded as a right that they chould be allowed to RUN FOR THE PRESIDENCY, parry two husbands, and live in the same house with both. This right, Mr. Greeley recretted to say, many persons, including several editors and mwyers of celebrity, seemed willing to accord them. in Wyoming they demanded the right to sit on turies, hang murderers, and, for all he knew, drink rin and smoke. In Wisconsia ae did not know wh t they wanted, but he hoped for their own sakes they were more moderate in their demands. Women, he said, had a right to pet their busbands and nurse the bibles that God might give them. Mr. Greeley continued in this strain for more than an hour, and when he sat down and drew his great size handkerchief scross his tace and gold spectacles a shout of applause went up that shook the building to its centre. The newspapers here speak in the highest terms of Ar. Greeley's effort, and in this they but express the sentiment of the audience, which was mainly composed of the intelligence and wealth of the office where he is array a against that issue. DRAGGED OUT OF BED BEFORE DAYBREAK. This morning at the unseasonable hour of 3 Mr. Greeley was aroused from his warm bed and ushered into a train for this place. After a tedious ride of three hours he errived, and was taken in hand by the Hon. W. D. Puisher, at whose house he will remain over Sunday. Shortly after his arrival, a communication was put into his hands from a delegation of Indians from the Stockbridge-Menomonee, Oneids, and Brotherton tribes, revation a few miles distant, on the shores of Green Bay. Mr. Greeley has accepted the invitation, and will ride out on Monday at 11 o'clock. These In diens are largely engaged in agricultural pursuits and distre to avail themselves of Mr. Greeley's community. Farmers, lawyers, mech nics, Congressmen, and merchants attended, and did not stint their applause. It is certain that the inhabit

The Menomonee tibe are not great faraces. They spend their time principalty in fishing, busting, and getting drank; but they will nevertheless come to see Mr. Greelev and it is to be boped will listen to him respectfully. There is another trice near Oshkesh called the Chippewas. They are stragglers from the original tribe, and are, it is said, irreclaimable Indians. They don't know any hing at all about farming, and one of them when approached on the subject of this reception was so irreverent as to say that he DIDN'T BELIEVE MR. GREELEY DID.

Of course with such depraved natures as these it would be impossible for Mr. Greeley to do anythis and he is very glad that the Chippewas will not take part in the reception. The other Indians are respectable savages, and, except the wicked Menomonees, neverldrink fire water or scalp anybody. The delegation said that the principal farmer among them desired to present or Mr. Greeley's inspection some of the specimens of their product Mr. Greeley expressed great gratification at this, and said he was deligated to see such progress among the Inthins, and that if their br thren on the plains would ado t similar habits of industry we should soon have a settlement of the Indian Excitement in Christ Church Yesterday-The Rev. Mr. Chency not Recognized in his Own House of Worship by Bishop Whitehouse-The Bishop's Manifesto.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10 .- According to previous annonnoement, Bishop Whitchouse, accompanied by Dr. C. V. Kelly, went ito Christ Church this mornng, to administer the rite of confirmation. The place was filled to the sidewalk with curious specators. Expecting trouble, the Bishop, with the Rev. Dr. Kelly, came at 10% to the vestry room by the side entrance, accompained by Mr. Albert Crane, the junior warden, who had met him at the door of the church. Mr. E. B. Phillips, the senior warden, was waiting with the Rev. Mr. Chency, who was in his surplice, bands and scarf, to receive the Bishop in the vestry room.

On the Bishop's entrance, Mr. Chency stepped forward, and extending his hand said, "Good morning, Bishop."

The Bishop refused to return the salutation, and said, "I cannot recognize you in any way in that garb." He then turned to the wardens, and on their assurance, in reply to his question, that Mr. Chency was rector of Christ Courch, he demanded whether they claimed that he was a presbyter of the discess of lilmois. They replied that this was not the time or place for any discussion of that subject. They then told the Bishop that they should in no way oppose his officiating, toking the whole or any part of the service, as he pleased; that he could direct the services, Mr. Cheney taking any part, or none : but that Mr. Chency must not be excluded from the chancel of his own church. Where-upon the Bishop read the following, which he had prepared before leaving his home:

WASHINGTON NOTES.

MURDER IN THIRD AVENUE. A SATURDAY NIGHT'S SPREE IN THE NINETKENTH WARD.

A Ceincklence which might have Hanged a Man-The Killing of John Contey-The Railroad Men's Spree. Between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday morning

John Cauley, better known as Buck Cauley, was murdered at Third avenue and Forty-second street, within a hundred feet of his home, whither he was going. On Friday night William Coughlin, an exoliceman, now a blacksmith, who resides at Fourth avenue and Forty second street; David Blake, of 152 East Forty-second street, and Thomas Murphy, a gate keeper in the employ of the Harlem railroad company at Fourth avenue and Twenty-sixth street, and who resides at 152 East Forty second street, were roaming the Twenty-first and Nineteenth Wards. They had been drinking some but were not intoxicated. Later at night they were joined by Cauley, who is a baggage master on Conductor Bausn's train of the New Bayen Railroad, and who resided on Third avenue, near Forty-second street. After some further drinking, the party then being in Third avenue, started down the avenue, intending to break up and go home. FOR HOW SMALL A TRING A MURDER.

Near Forty-third street Cauley and Murphy, who were walking slightly to the rear of the others, be-came involved in a quarrel. Each said that the other did not bear a good name. Their talk was somewhat excited, but no one had the most remote notion that either of the men contemplated violence. At Forty-second street, in reply to a remark from Cauley, Murphy said, "My character is better than yours, anyhow." To tais Cauley made some reply which exasperated Murphy, and he cried out: "Cauley, you're a d-d liar.

Cauley drew back and, doubling his fist, aimed a stunning blow at Murphy's head. Murphy sorang buck and escaped the blow. In an instant he whipped out his pistol, pointed it at Cauley, and fired. Cauley cried out to Coughlin :

"What is it ?" said Coughlin. "Oh, I'm shot," said Cauley, at the same time ressing his hands over his left breast.

His friends supported him, and Coughlin asked im how he felt.
"Oh, terribly!" replied Cauley, at the same instant slipping through their grasp and FALLING TO THE SIDEWALK, DEAD, At the same instant Murphy turned and fled up so avenue. He was called upon to stop, but he Rept on, his silk cap, such as is worn by curployed of the Mariem Rahrand, being bown on, and subse quently faling into the hands of the police.

Roundsman Fanning and Officers Wilson an Recan of the Fifty-math street police were on the solvery soon after the shooting. The body was spot very soon after the shocking. The body was taken to the station, and there it was asserted that Cauley had been shot in the left breast, the ball enterna, near the nuple and penetrating and locking in the eart. Capt. Ginner-sent out men to search for the murderer, and detailed Coughins and Elake as witne-ses.

Half an hour after the murder, Officer O'Hars, while patroling his beat at Second avenue and Forty-mints street, saw a man walking down the avenue very fast, without a hat. The officer lawing been instructed by Capt. Guaner to look sharp for suscicious persons, approached the man, who crosses the avenue and kept on, quickening his set a brack drawing. The factive turned into East Fortieth street and stopped in front of 34s, the officer shadowing him.

The man ascended the steps and rang the bell.

A Policeman in Doubt. A POLICEMAN IN DOUBT.

There was no resconse, and the may took out his night key and made in unsuccess in attempt to open the door. At this juncture the officer approached and asked.

"West do you want here?"

"I live here," said the man.

"where syour mat?" asked the officer.

"I don't know as that's any or your business," was the reby.

The officer told him that a man had been shot in Tond avenue, and that the assession had True off

Where have you been; how did you LOSE YOUR HAT?"

The prisoner said that he had been down in the Iwenty-first Ward with Joe Bereysey and some ideals. They wanted aim to stay, and he wanted to go bone. He chally tore thusen away and entered a Third avenue car. Joe tollowed aim and endecyoled to personate him to return. Failing, he exad the prisoner's hat and made out with it, nooming thereby to compel Murpay to return. This tree prisoner said be reased to do, keeping on the car. When asked to secount for his haste when sees by the officer, he said that he was harrying home be rause as was harsheaded.

TO-DAY'S GREAT BOAT RACE.

The Crews in Splendid Condition-Why the Tyne Crew Lost at Halifax - Sadler Marched for 85,600.

SARATOGA, Sept. 10.—The weather to-day was cold and cheerless, but this did not deter large numers driving out to the lake to get a peep at the rews. All were out in the morning practising. The Tyne crew took a long, steady pull of five miles, and the Taylor-Winship crew did about the same work. Both these crews are in splendid condition, and both are confident of success. Your corre spondent had a long talk with Henry Kelly to-day and learned from him the reason they performed so badly at Halifax. In the first piace Bright, the man who took Renforth's place, was anything but fit to row, and in the race they made a mistake in steer ing by which they had to pull fully a hundred yards further than the winning crew. In to-morrow's race they have the best position, under the lee of the shore, and thus will have smooth water to row in compared to those more in the middle of the laba. The friends of the Ward Brothers are very confident, alleging that the the three first the term of the in compared to those more in the middle of the labo.

The friends of the Ward Brothers are very confident, alleging that the the time I they made in a trial was 24 minutes and 13 seconds. If this is true, they ought to win easily. The Biglin crew have also also many friends, but the general impression is that the Wards will beat them. In the single-scull race the following will probably start: Coulter, John Biglin, Ellis and Gilbert Ward, Percy Kelley, Bagnall and Sadler. The latter is favorite over the field. To-day Taylor offered to be a thousand dollars that Sadler would win, had Gus Adaus, the backer of the Winship crew, offered to match him for a thousand boamas sterling to row any man in the world a single-scull race. The water to-day was very rough, but the whad has noated to-night, and the race will probably take place.

On Saturday, while visitors were idling about on the shore of the bake, mausing themselves as well they could under the circumstances, the swindling and card sharping fraternity reaped a rich harvest. Two of the Coney Island three-card monte artists, finding business rather dull, had journeyed to Saratoga. But this predicts pair did not get hall so much as the gentlemen who had carge of the roulette and rouge-et-noir tables, which attracted many fools. These games, which are, it is needless to say bare-faced swindles, are played in a small house close to the water's edge at the Lake House Holes, New presents, or the Tobes, which attracted many fools. These games, which are, it is needless to sail or let on inch of ground for building purposes, as by so doing he is note to keep the monopoly of the hotel business in his own hand. THE DOWLING-BRENNAN FIGHT.

An Erup ion of the Poud in the Pourteenth Ward-A Candidate for the Assembly on his Muscle-Where Capt. Waish Was. Late Friday night the barroom of the new Me opolitan Hotel was the scene of a disturbance caused by the boisterousness of a candidate for the Assembly from the Fourteenth Ward, one Charles Claney, who hoped to make a hero of himself by as saulting little Hughey O'Brien, the Assistant Alder want of the Ward. Clancy was with Police Capt. Walsh. Both Lad been previously admiring the Widow Chequot, and were in high spirits. Capt. Walsh chemanded of O'Brien in so offensive manner, whether he was a Breneau or a Dowling man. "I am a triend of both," quietly responded the little Alderman.

Capt. Wash—That won't do; you must declarate yourself of one side or the other.

Capi. Wash—That won't do; you must declars yourself on one side or the other.

What is a constant, who is the fall is as who other way of draining himself into the Legislature than with his dists, declared himself an anti-Dowling man, adding to at Brennan was going to move to tao Sixta Ward azain, and intended to send min to the Assembly. As for O'Brien, he would take pleasance in whipping him, and, true to his word, Clarcy administered to O'Brien several violent blows.

O'Brien for a time should this with the calmness of a philosopher, but at last torbeaunce ceased to be a virtue, and he struck out and gave Clarcy a severe drobbing.

Since Sheriff Brennan's opponents have declared him a Twellth Warder, and therefore no longer antitled to the control of the party in the Sixth Ward, he has taken up his abode in his brother Owen's house in the Sixth. Lively times are anticipated.
